

January 22, 2010

Dear Customers:

We are pleased to announce the operations of Saskatchewan Disease Control Laboratory will relocate to the new facility at 5 Research Drive during mid February 2010. During this time there will be some disruption of services. We ask that you please not send samples to the Environmental Services/Water Lab from February 11-16. Please send your samples as early as possible in the week beginning February 8th. In the following week, please mail samples so as to arrive at the lab in the second half of the week. Your understanding will be appreciated as we take this important step.

Effective February 16, 2010, please ship your samples to our new address below. Starting February 8th, we will re-address all cooler bags and shipping containers with the new laboratory address. In the event your mailing container is not tagged, please ensure you use the new address.

Please ship to:
